It is very quiet, even for me, and my husband is working mostly from home, but he goes to his office downstairs, and only comes up for coffee, or food. So its no different to when he goes to city, but I am sort of confined, my haunts are closed or unfriendly. I have really missed the RSL Wednesday arvos, the chat, the laughter, the news, the sausage, Bills zucchini, Bruce's eggs, and so much more.

I have also missed going out for a meal, or a coffee, etc. Even nice food is not the same if its brought home and eaten at home, and you have to clean up.

I thought we were coming to a place where the new normal could begin, Our current situation is very disappointing.

Anyway, look at the beautiful pictures of Australia, the wonderful country we are so lucky to live in.

Let us hope we remember, all that has happened, when it comes to making choices.

Ollie will continue to maintain lawns, but no extras eg: pruning, weeding.

Im sure you understand we have limited funds and no income from Anzac Day badge sales this year, which normally pays for that.

Thank you for your understand- ing, be well.

Australia 1957

- 19 January – The last edition of The Argus newspaper is published.
- 20 January – GTV-9 television station is officially opened in Melbourne
- 6 May – In Melbourne Tonight, TV-Series 1957–1970 (GTV-9's first major production)
- 29 July – The Bega bombing occurs in Bega, New South Wales when Senior Constable Kenneth Desmond Coussens (31), his wife Elizabeth (34) and 7-month-old son Bruce are instantly killed by a bomb placed on their home's veranda. The house was demolished by the explosion at about 2 AM. 8-year-old Roger McCampbell, Coussens step-son, survived. A six-gallon metal cream container filled with 240 sticks of gelignite, stolen from a mine, was placed there by Myron Bertram Kelly. Coussens dealt with Kelly regarding traffic offences and issued him several traffic fines. Kelly appears to have become angered because Coussens issued further fines and defect notices regarding Kelly's tractor and rotary hoe. On 6 December 1957 Justice McClemens sentenced Kelly to life imprisonment for the 3 murders.[1]
- 15 September – Hobart has its wettest day on record with 156.2 millimetres as a result of a slow-moving low pressure system redeveloping over the Tasman Sea[2]

Jane Fawthrop Tyers

Jane Fawthrop Tyers was born in Portland Victoria on 21st March 1877, the youngest of nine children of Emily and Thomas Bennett. Her father came from Derbyshire England to Portland in 1854, with his uncle establishing a successful tailoring business and later a comfortable home for his family.

When Jane was 2 years old, her mother died. Her father died 10 years later, so 12 year old Jane was sent away to Girton College in Bendigo to obtain her education and probably her early independence.

Jane entered the School of Nursing at the Austin Hospital Melbourne, and graduated as a general nurse in 1909. After obtaining her Mental Nursing Certificate in 1910, Jane was employed at Sunbury Hospital for the Insane as a Charge Nurse, and then Acting Matron. Jane's and colleague, Ethel Tracey Richardson, previously matron at Sunbury, had joined the Army Nursing Service in 1914, and became Matron in Chief, Australian Army Nursing Service, and Australia Military Forces. She encouraged Jane to join up the war was not expected to last very long and the experience would be invaluable.

Jane Tyers enlisted on the 10th August 1915, Unit No.1 Australia General Hospital, A.I.F, appointed as a member of the Australian Army Nursing Service on 17th August 1915 in the grade of Sister. She embarked one week later 24th August 1915, on the "Morea", stopping at Suez, but travelling on to Alexandria. On 17th June 1916, Jane was admitted to 3rd Australian General Hospital, Heliopolis, with gastroenteritis, and "discharged to duty" on 20th June 1916, her only illness recorded. She returned to Australia from Egypt on H.M. "Port Sydney", "detailed for transport duty and struck off strength". Leaving Suez on board nursing staff on 24th June 1916 and disembarking in Melbourne on 7th July 1916.

After the war Jane returned to her position as Matron of the Sunbury Mental Hospital and remained there for a year or so, but then accepted the position of Matron at the new Mont Park Mental Hospital which initially was to provide for mentally ill returned defence force personnel. Later she worked at the Queen Elizabeth Aged Care Hospital in Ballarat and was promoted to night supervisor, a position she held for nearly four years.

At the age of seventy Jane decided to retire and moved back to Sunbury. She enjoyed being back in Sunbury, and often drove with a friend, Billy Aitken, to the races at Moonee Valley on Saturdays.

Jane was diagnosed with mature age diabetes some years previously, her health started to deteriorate after she turned eighty. She was admitted to Heidelberg Repatriation Hospital and had a below the knee leg amputation, after which she was determined to walk with a prosthetic leg. She did master this skill, but some month later she was admitted again and passed away in June 1960, at the age of 83 years.

Jane gave her entire life to nursing and caring for people.

Her name appears on the Sunbury Cenotaph in Stawell Street Sunbury.

Trivial to some

Australia's oldest surviving brewery, the Cascade Brewery in Hobart, Tasmania, is still operating almost 200 years after its establishment in 1824.

Within 70 years, many of Australia's long-standing breweries had been created, including the Coopers Brewery in 1862, the Carlton Brewery in 1864, and the Fosters brewery in 1887, which produced Australia's first lager.

In 1878, brothers Nicholas and Edward Fitzgerald, moved their entire brewing operation from Castlemaine in Victoria to Brisbane. Hence, the Castlemaine Perkins brewery was born, known today as the home of XXXX.

Following Australia's federation in 1901, a new Beer and Excise Act was formed by the Federal Government, which led to the regulation of beer brewing and sales.

Home brewing was determined to be illegal and the beer sector began to transform as 16 of Sydney's 21 breweries began to shut their doors.

Within a short time, the remaining breweries in Australia looked to consolidation. 1907 saw the merger of five Melbourne breweries to form Carlton & United Breweries. As with most sectors, over the last century continuing consolidation to achieve economies of scale has led to greater concentration in beer production - but, most importantly, the brew remains true.

Cascade Brewery in Hobart... established in 1824.

1 cup fresh strawberries
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1 ½ cups all-purpose flour
⅓ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup vanilla honey yogurt
3 tablespoons butter, melted
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk
¼ cup chopped almonds

Add All Ingredients To Shopping List

DirectionsInstructions Checklist

Step 1

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F (175 degrees C). Grease and flour an 8-inch round cake pan.

Step 2

Mix strawberries and 3 tablespoons brown sugar together in a bowl.

Step 3

Mix flour, 1/3 cup brown sugar, baking powder, baking soda, and salt in a separate large bowl. Whisk yogurt, melted butter, vanilla extract, and egg in a third bowl. Stir yogurt mixture, alternating with milk, into flour mixture until just moistened. Spoon 2/3 of the batter into the prepared pan; spread strawberry mixture evenly over batter. Top with remaining batter. Sprinkle almonds over batter.

Step 4

Bake in the preheated oven until a toothpick inserted in the middle of the cake comes out clean, about 40 minutes. Let cool in pan atop a wire rack for 10 minutes. Run a knife around the edge of the pan before transferring cake to a serving platter.

Just accidentally emailed a porn link to a co-worker. So I emailed ten other co-workers the link and called it a virus.

A CONRONA VIRUS LESSON

This picture from World War II, a soldier carrying a donkey. It is not that the soldier loves donkeys or has some sort of perversion. What's happening is that the field is mined and that if the donkey was free to wonder as it pleased, it would likely detonate a charge and kill everyone. The moral of the story is that during difficult times the first ones you have to keep under control are the jackasses who don't understand the danger and do as they please.

An assistant to Donald Trump told him she had a fantastic dream last night.
There was a huge parade down Pennsylvania Avenue celebrating Trump.
Millions lined the parade route, cheering when the President went past.
Bands were playing; children were throwing confetti into the air; there were balloons everywhere.
It was absolutely the BIGGEST CELEBRATION WASHINGTON HAD EVER SEEN!!!
Trump was very impressed and said, "That's really great!
By the way, how did I look in your dream? Was my hair okay?"
His assistant said, "I couldn't tell, the casket was closed."

Little David was in his 5th grade class in a San Francisco charter school when the teacher asked the children what their fathers did for a living.

All the typical answers came up - fireman, policeman, salesman, doctor, lawyer,

David was being uncharacteristically quiet, so the teacher asked him about his father.

"My father's an exotic dancer in a gay cabaret and takes off all his clothes in front of other men and they put money in his underwear. Sometimes he, if they are really good generous tippers, goes home with them."

The teacher, obviously shaken by this statement, hurriedly set the other children to work on some exercises and took little David aside to ask him, "Is that really true about your father?"

"No, of course not," said David. "He works for Donald Trump, but I was too embarrassed to say that in front of the other kids!"

The other day someone told me that I could make ice cubes with leftover wine. I was confused... what is leftover wine?

People say that drinking milk makes you stronger.

Drink 5 glasses of milk and try to move a wall.
Can't?

Now drink 5 glasses of wine.
The wall moves all by itself!

Mum's Clothes Line Rules

The clothes line must be wiped before hanging clothes.

Socks must be hung by their toes.

Hang sheets and towels on the outside line so you can hide your 'unmentionables'.

Clothes must hang in order - whites with whites and hung first.

Shirts must always hang by the tail - never the shoulders.

Lining up the clothes so that each item shares one of the clothes pegs with another item.

It doesn't matter if it is sub-zero outside, the clothes will go out and just freeze.

Pegs must be gathered up when taking down clothes - never leave them on the line.

We have all had a lot of spare time over the last few weeks, when it was time to create this newsletter, I went for a wander around the internet. I was more than a little disappointed with this picture on the main RSL Victoria web page. I would like to see a picture of our RSL, not this generic unrelated picture. I'd love some feedback from you.
